

2019 Ken Heath Award Nominations Now Being Accepted!

The Security Traders Association Women in Finance Committee is now accepting nominations for the 2019 Ken Heath Award, which recognizes those men who have demonstrated genuine support of women in the financial services industry and have made a notable contribution to their advancement.

3rd Annual Evening of Recognition & Education

Tuesday, May 21, 2019

India House (formerly Bayard's)

One Hanover Square – New York, NY

Why Recognize Men?

A successful diversity strategy is a culture shift within the entire organization. Most gender diversity strategies focus on women-only initiatives or workplace harassment training. Corporations that engage men in their gender diversity strategies achieve better results.

Application Submission Information

Letters of recommendation should be in narrative form, no more than 750 words and submitted to Dawn Combs at dawn@securitytraders.org by Thursday, April 4, 2019. Please include details on how the candidate exemplifies the attitude and acts of service by Ken Heath towards the advancement of women in finance. In particular, provide examples of how the candidate:

- Maximizes available resources relative to his position to promote opportunities, career development and visibility for women in finance, and
- Demonstrates sincere and genuine support for the advancement of women in finance.

Nomination Criteria

- Candidate must be male and currently employed within some capacity of financial services.
- Candidate must possess an appreciation for personal excellence and fulfillment through family, faith, philanthropy, hobbies and other leisure pursuits.
- Candidate does not have to be an STA member. Current STA Board members are not eligible.

Award Presentation

STA requests that nominee be available to attend the May 21 event in person, if selected as a recipient.
